More information

If you like to draw, paint, or anything like that, you should enter the drawing contest! All you have to do is create a drawing/painting and turn it into Mrs. Ringler in room 719. Drawings are due Tuesday, November 26th. Get creative!!

Do you need advice?? Don't know who to ask??

The newspaper club has your back!

You can write a note and say what you want to ask. You don't have to put your name, you can use a fake name so you can find your piece of advice quickly. We will put a slot outside of Mrs. Ringler's room. Your question AND our advice will be in the newspaper, so we recommend not using your real name.

An Erickson Interview on Fall Break: Should it really be in October?

Fall Break is always on the third Wednesday of October. Students love not having school. Here is my view on Fall Break: I understand that teachers have to enter grades and get things done, but I don't like where the break is placed during the school year. Students are finally getting used to waking up early, and we also just got to know where our classes are; we have just gotten into a routine. Over Fall Break we forget everything that we've learned. My aunt is a Special Education teacher and she has the same opinion as me. "As a Special Education teacher, it's hard to get students to learn the rules and get into a routine." She was telling me who she was finally making progress with her students, and then they had Fall Break. Even though many students like having a few days off of school, it is hard for others.
